This information is not intended as tax advice. Distributions will appear on shareholders' 1099-DIV forms, if applicable. These distributions shouldn't impose a tax burden on shareholders holding shares through a retirement account. Please check with your tax advisor for additional information.

Definitions | Record Date: The date established by an issuer of a security for the purpose of determining the holders who are entitled to receive a dividend or distribution; Ex-Dividend Date: The date on or after which a security is traded without a previously declared dividend or distribution. After the ex-date, a security is said to trade ex-dividend; Payable Date: The date on which a declared dividend is scheduled to be paid.

A fund's NAV will drop on the distribution ex-date to reflect the portfolio's NAV after distribution; this drop would be in addition to any effect the market's performance had on the securities within the fund's portfolio. Please note that the distribution rate per share class will differ due to the expense spreads between the classes.

In the table above are the dividend record date, dividend ex-date, and dividend payable dates for all existing share classes of the funds listed.
